[MARCH, MDCCLXXII.] [NUMB. 329.]

THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, MARCH 17, 1772.

LONDON, DECEMBER 21.

ON Wedneſday Admiral Elphinſton, late in the ſervice of her Imperial Majeſty of all the Ruſſias, was preſented to his Majeſty at St. James's, and met with a moſt gracious reception.

We hear the following improvements, in conſequence of rebuilding London-bridge, are intended to be made.---The Borough to be widened and formed into a regular ſtreet; a grand ſtreet and road as near the foot of the bridge as convenient, to continue along Rotherhithe, through Greenwich to Dulwich, and the preſent ſerpentine road to be deſtroyed. Another ſtreet from the Surry ſide of the bridge in a right line to the Obeliſk. Kent-ſtreet to be widened and rebuilt. On the London ſide, Fiſh-ſtreet Hill and Gracechurch-ſtreet to be formed into a wide, regular approach to the bridge; the communication with Upper and Lower Thames-ſtreets improved.

A grand line of road is intended to be made from Batterſea new bridge up that beautiful hill between Clapham and Wandſworth, to communicate with the turnpike road; this improvement is occaſioned by the narrow, muddy, and ditch-like roads throughout Batterſea town, almoſt impaſſable all the winter, and is apprehended will greatly affect the toll of the ſaid bridge.

On Tueſday laſt died, and on Thurſday was interred in the family vault in St. Martin's in the Fields, Lucius O'Brien, Eſq; Rear Admiral of the White, deſcended from an ancient and noble family in Ireland. In the war before the laſt, he ſerved under Admiral Vernon at Carthagena, and under the Admirals Rowley and Medley in the Mediterranean. In the ever memorable action in 1759, when the great French fleet commanded by Conflans, was defeated by Sir Edward Hawke, he was caſt away in the Eſſex of 70 guns, in the vigorous execution of his duty. He ſerved under Admiral Rodney at the taking of Martinico, who ſent him then Commander of the Temple, with a ſmall ſquadron, to reduce the Grenades, which ſervice he effectually performed, entirely deſtroying or taking the French ſhips and fortifications that defended them.

We hear, that at ſeveral of the Wardmotes held this day, it was propoſed to thank the Lord Mayor, Braſs Croſby, Eſq; for his noble and ſpirited conduct during his Mayoralty.

Four minors were mentioned in the papers of yeſterday, who, when they came of age, would be the richeſt ſubjects in his Majeſty's dominions; but we beg leave to remark, that Mr. Penn, of Spring-Gardens, is now the richeſt ſubject in Europe. His eſtate in the province of Pennſylvania alone, was, in the year 1759, eſtimated, on his own principles, at ten millions ſterling; and his dignity and power are not leſs than his enormous wealth; for he is abſolute Governor, Proprietor, and Captain General of Pennſylvania, and nominates his Lieutenant Governor, and all his Judges, Juſtices, Militia Officers, &c. during his pleaſure.

DECEMBER 24. Yeſterday a grant of a pardon paſſed the Great Seal to Sir James Stewart, Bart. who was concerned in the late rebellion.

Extract of a letter from Paris, December 16.

"The Parliament lately made remonſtrances to the King, upon the ſubject of ſome edicts relative to the finances, to which his Majeſty ſeemed at firſt to pay ſome attention; but upon a repetition of their remonſtrances, he ſent them letters of juſſion, directing them to regiſter his edicts without any further altercation or delay."

We hear from Reading, that Britain is by Habeas Corpus moved to Briſtol, to take his trial there.

DECEMBER 25. At the laſt Board of Admiralty the ſtationing of the ſeveral men of war fitting out for ſea in the different dock-yards was fixed, and inſtructions were ſent to the Commiſſioners for carrying the ſame into execution.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, December 17.

"The laſt letters from Vienna adviſe, that the great advantages lately gained by the Ruſſians over the Turks, have made ſuch an impreſſion upon the Empreſs Queen and her Miniſtry, that there is reaſon to hope her Imperial Majeſty will be more inclined than heretofore to liſten to the terms propoſed for bringing about a peace between the Ruſſians and the Turks.

"The letters from Warſaw adviſe, that the circular letters for convening a Senatus Concilium are all ready, but not ſigned; which is attributed to ſome points which a certain foreign Miniſter inſiſts upon being inſerted in thoſe letters, and which ſeveral of the magiſtrates ſtrenuouſly oppoſe, ſo that the Senatus Concilium is not ſo near as was expected. It is pretended that a great perſonage of the firſt rank among the Polanders, has lately been ſent from Warſaw to Peterſburgh under a very ſtrong guard; for what offence is not yet known. It is likewiſe reported, that a detachment of Ruſſian troops is ſecretly marched to Elbing, in order to conduct the Prince Primate from thence back again to Warſaw; which, if true, throws ſome ſuſpicion upon that Prelate as one of the parties concerned in the late attempt againſt the King."

We can aſſure the public, that a memorial was lately ſent off from St. James's to the Spaniſh Court, demanding a releaſe of Engliſh priſoners, which have been at different times taken by Spaniſh veſſels on various pretences. From the ſame authority we alſo aſſert, that there is not a royal ſea port town in Spain, which has not at this time a greater or leſs number of Engliſh priſoners in cloſe confinement. The above points muſt be ſettled before the diſputes now ſubſiſting between England and Spain can be brought to any termination.

DECEMBER 26. On Tueſday a general Navy Commiſſion paſſed the Great Seal, appointing Hugh Palliſer, Eſq; Sir John Williams, Knt. Edmund Maſon, Timothy Brett, Thomas Hanway, and William Bateman, Eſqrs. Sir Richard Temple, Bart. Frederick Rogers, Richard Hughes, and Charles Proby, Eſqrs. principal Officers and Commiſſioners of the Navy, with ſalaries of 500l. per ann. each, payable quarterly by the Treaſurer of the Navy.

At the ſame time commiſſions were paſſed, appointing Hugh Palliſer, Eſq; Comptroller of the Navy; Sir John Williams, Surveyor of the Navy; Edmund Maſon, Eſq; Clerk of the Acts of the Navy; Timothy Brett, Eſq; Comptroller of Treaſurers Accounts; Thomas Hanway, Eſq; Comptroller of Victuallers Accounts; William Bateman, Eſq; Comptroller of Storekeepers Accounts; Frederick Rogers, Eſq; Surveyor of Plymouth-Yard; Richard Hughes, Eſq; Surveyor of Portſmouth-Yard; and Charles Proby, Eſq; of Chatham and Sheerneſs.

We hear a bill for rebuilding the Savoy upon the plan of the Adelphi, and a magnificent ſtone bridge oppoſite Southampton-ſtreet to the Surry ſhore, will be brought into parliament.

Yeſterday an expreſs arrived from Dublin, with an account, That the Commons of Ireland have rejected the money-bill, on account of an alteration made in council here, greatly to the prejudice of Ireland; ſo that the old bill determined on the 25th inſtant, and leaves that country without any law ſubſiſting by which the revenues can be collected, till the new bill can be obtained. The numbers were,

For rejecting the Bill	95
Againſt it	77

So that the Court loſt it by a majority of eighteen. A freſh proof of the reſentment of Ireland, for the oppreſſions that country is hourly made to undergo. Would to heaven there was the ſame reſentment in the Britiſh Houſe of Commons, to puniſh an arbitrary and perfidious Court.

The laſt letters from Spain adviſe, that his Catholic Majeſty had iſſued poſitive orders, that no galleons, men of war, or any other ſhips whatever ſhould return home to Old Spain, from any part of the Spaniſh colonies in America till further orders, notice of which was diſpatched to all their ſettlements in America.

The celebrated Mungo, ever ſince he has been cut off from his Iriſh penſion, has been meditating revenge, with all that plodding attention ſo inſeparable from that ſpecies of blacks. He has at laſt hit on an expedient, which, we hear, he warmly inſiſts on as ſatisfaction for the inſult, and a reward for his many drudgeries; which is, that as the bounty on Iriſh linens expires this next ſummer, that act ſhall only be continued, on conſideration of his having 500l. per year added to his late penſion. This demand has been thought ſo very extraordinary by ſome of the cabinet, that they have loudly complained of it; notwithſtanding, it is thought that faithful ſlave's ſervices are ſuch, as "will out-tongue all their complaints."

There are now building in the ſeveral dock-yards, twenty ſail of men of war, which will be ready for ſervice early in the ſummer.

DECEMBER 27. Advices which arrived on Wedneſday from Spain, ſay, that his moſt Catholic Majeſty was ſuddenly taken ill, and was not expected to live many days.

We have received intelligence, that the demand of priſoners, which was made by our Court from Spain, was treated with contempt.

Letters from Senegal mention, that every thing was then quiet on the coaſt, but trade ſucceſſive dead; and that the garriſon was greatly reduced by death and ſickneſs.

DECEMBER 28. The rejection of the Iriſh money bill was occaſioned ſolely by a miſtake in the engroſſing, ſome words having been accidentally omitted. The bill was immediately ordered to be brought in again, and will, after it is paſſed, be ſent over for the royal aſſent as uſual.

It is ſaid, that Mr. Zoffany the painter, who is engaged to go with Mr. Bankes on his voyage to the South Seas, is to have 1000l. a third ſhare of all curioſities, and other profits that may ariſe from the voyage, with the right of diſpoſal of ſuch pictures as he may make of the different people, countries, &c. and that he is to forfeit 1000l. ſhould he not go.

The Miniſtry have inſtructed their reporting friends, to palliate their late overthrow in Ireland, by circulating, that the miſcarriage of the Money Bill there, was owing to a miſtake of the Clerk of the Privy Council; who, they aſſert, returned a correct and incorrect Bill. The incorrect Bill, they ſay, was tranſmitted to Ireland, by the way of Holyhead, and arrived firſt. The Commons threw it out, on account of an error in it, made by the Clerk. And the correct Bill, they add, was ſent through Scotland, by the way of Port Patrick, but arrived too late.----- Did the Commons of Ireland ſend over TWO Money Bills?----- Such a tale may delude one man, but it cannot the whole nation. ---The fact is, the Bill was thrown out, on account of its being materially altered by the Miniſtry here---on account of the propoſed duty of ſixpence per yard upon the cottons; and not on account of any miſtake being made by the Clerk. There were three material alterations made in it by the Miniſtry. That reſpecting the cottons was a partiality to the Scotch, which will be made manifeſt in the courſe of the enſuing ſeſſion at Weſtminſter. The Commons of Ireland, very naturally, became indignant upon ſeeing the bill altered in three places, to the infinite prejudice of the moſt eſſential intereſts of their country. They ſaid, and very truly, that the King held his prorogative to do good, not to do miſchief; and that whenever he, or thoſe about him, adviſed him to abuſe it, it was their duty, as the guardians of the people, by whom they were choſen, to refuſe him ſupport. Accordingly, the civil and military eſtabliſhments of that country, are, at this moment, wholly unprovided for. The former Revenue-act expired laſt Wedneſday; and Diſſolution, or if any thing can be conceived that is worſe, ſtares them full in the face.

To an obſtinate predilection for men, whoſe principles and conduct are univerſally deteſted, are owing all the diſtreſſes of the people, and the accumulating diſgraces of the preſent reign. If we look abroad, we ſee our nation deſpiſed; if we look at home, we ſee it diſtracted; and if we look over our dependencies, we ſee them on the verge of deſpair. To what is this complicated ſcene of diſhonour and miſery owing? To the want of ability in our Councils. The preſent Miniſters are tyrants over their inferiors, and cowards to their equals. A machanical ſyſtem of corruption is their only rule of government; and to ſhift from day to day is the extent of their knowledge. Of the intereſts of the kingdom they are totally ignorant; and of its honour wholly regardleſs. That theſe are Truths every diſintereſted perſon in the kingdom can bear teſtimony. But what is moſt aſtoniſhing, is, that at a time when the whole empire is tottering by civil feuds, and the great abilities of ONE MAN ſtand eminently conſeſſed by all, whoſe ſurpriſing talents for government have been found equal to retrieve former, and are acknowledged to be ſufficient to prevent future diſtreſs and diſgrace; who has once ſaved his country, and is able to ſave it again; that he ſhould not be permitted to take the direction of public affairs; ſhould not be permitted to be miniſter of an empire, which owes its greatneſs to his genius, and its decline to his enemies.

They write from Warſaw, of the 4th of December, that the Emperor has wrote a letter with his own hand, to the King of Poland, in which his Imperial Majeſty makes him an offer, not only of his Friendſhip, but alſo of aſſiſtance, in caſe of need; adding, that he ſhould be glad to ſee a Poliſh miniſter at his Court.

There is now living in Pepper-ſtreet, Southwark, one John Piney, who for many years has been employed as a carman; he is above 100 years old, has been married to eight wives, who bore him thirty-ſeven ſons, and nine daughters, the youngeſt of whom is now about twenty years old.

DECEMBER 31. A letter from Mancheſter ſays, "We are credibly informed that there are letters in London, and in this town, informing, that the Court of Spain have paſſed a decree, that no cotton goods ſhall be imported from England; that thoſe traders who have any ſuch goods upon hand, ſhall have three months allowed them to diſpoſe of ſuch articles, and that thoſe who have already bought ſuch ſhall have twenty-one months allowed them to wear them out; various are the conjectures here upon ſuch proceeding."

We hear that letters of recall have been ſent to Lord Catheart, his Majeſty's Ambaſſador at the Court of Peterſburgh.

The Houſe of Commons of Ireland, at the Speaker's deſire, have ſent a Money Bill back to England, amended according to the alterations, which were made in the Privy Council of Great-Britain. So that they aſſert their right without interfering with the trade and policy of England.-----Lord Townſhend will certainly be removed, for ſuffering thoſe exceptionable taxes to be in the Money Bill, and reducing the Miniſtry to this neceſſity.

Lord Mountmorres has gained great credit in Ireland, by his late very ſpirited conduct in the Houſe of Lords there.

Dr. Solander and Mr. Banks are to ſet out on their voyage the latter end of next month. They are to have two men of war, three frigates, and ſeveral tranſports for carrying over ſome families and ſtores, in order to make a ſettlement at Port Egmont.

JANUARY 2. It is reported letters are received from Warſaw, mentioning that the rebel Koſinſki had been privately killed in the Caſtle by order of the Council, for the attempt on his Majeſty's life. Two of the other conſpirators are taken.

Advices is received from Holland, that there is ſuch a ſcarcity of proviſions in ſeveral parts of it, that the States have offered a conſiderable bounty over and above the market price, to be paid to ſuch perſons as will ſupply them with live cattle, wheat, rye, &c. It is ſaid that numbers of poor people daily die for the want of the common neceſſaries of life.

A correſpondent acquaints us, the following letter was written by the Duke of Cumberland laſt week to a popular leader in the Iriſh Houſe of Commons: And as its authenticity may be depended on, it cannot be deemed unworthy of publication.

"SIR,

"I received your letter of congratulations on my marriage. I believe them ſincere, and eſteem them from a man of your ſenſe and virtue a full monument for the impotent courtly bulls that are daily thundered out, and the ſtorms of wit that come ſmoaking in loads from the preſs againſt me.

"I am ſhunn'd here as a peſtilence, even by my family, as an apoſtate from royalty. My pious brother readily forgave me for forgetting the chriſtian and the man, but is inexorable at the breach I have made at that empty bauble.---But let not the K--g accuſe me of having by my marriage added to the faction and diſreſpect againſt his family and government. Let him accuſe himſelf that the name of L-----ll is odious to the people of England. What is it to me that the father is vicious, if the daughter is virtuous? What is it to me that the brother betrays his country, if the ſiſter is faithful to her huſband? I loved her not as the daughter of L--d I----m, or as the ſiſter of Colonel L-----ll. I loved her for herſelf; and if my paſſion has been miſplaced, I alone am to be the ſufferer.

"The reſentment of his M-----y as a brother, I regret; as a King, I deſpiſe it. I am a true ſubject of Great-Britain, and poſſeſs paſſions and inclinations in common with the peaſant. If I have indulged them imprudently, I wiſh I had always indulged them as innocently.

"It has been my misfortune to be believed a fool by the world; and indeed greater abilities than I can pretend to when totally ſubverted by licentious paſſion, might juſtify the world in the imputation. But I intend now to put on the man and the Prince, and to aſſume a very uncommon character, that of an independent Peer of Great-Britain. Whatever conſequence my birth and ſituation may give, ſhall weigh in the popular ſcale againſt the venal ſtrides of deſpotiſm; and if an indefatigable attachment to the intereſts of my country in the ſenate, and the oppoſing my perſon to her enemies on the ſeas, be a ſufficient atonement for the levities of youth, I ſhall hope to be forgiven and lov'd by a generous and free people.

"The K--g's pride will prevent him from withdrawing my portion of the civil liſt; but ſhould policy or reſentment outweigh it, I do not deſpair to ſee a ſenate, at leaſt in one of the kingdoms, that may baulk his intentions. And here, Sir, let me congratulate you as being the popular leader in ſo reſpectable a body as the Commons of Ireland are now about to prove themſelves. I rejoice with you on the declining ſtate of corruption, and hope from your zeal and eloquence the Th--ne will be ſhook to the centre. I wiſh the convulſions may reach this infatuated country till the times demand your ſervices. Keep them private. You ſhall be my ſleeping ſtar; for altho' a ſeaman, my brother has ſtartled me from being guided by the North one.-----Adieu; believe me your's ſincerely, Windſor Lodge, Dec. 19. C--------D."

Tueſday the Duke and Ducheſs of C. came to their houſe in Pall-Mall, from Windſor, but did not ſtay above two hours, having received, (as it is ſaid) a meſſage from a Great Perſonage to return to his Lodge again, as his ſtaying in town at preſent would be very diſagreeable to them.

Advices are received, that the Duke of Gloucester is relapſed.

Lord Sandwich has contributed more than any other perſon to trip up Lord Townſhend's heels. When the poſt of Maſter of the Packets was vacant, this virtuous Lord had ſo much influence with his Majeſty, as to oblige Lord Townſhend to break his promiſe, and give up his right.

The good Lord Talbot being much indiſpoſed, the rapacious Bloomſbury gang are trying to get a promiſe of Steward of the Houſhold for their midnight companion, Lord Weymouth, who is exceedingly preſſing---to be provided for.

Lord Delaware, it is ſaid, will ſhortly be appointed Captain General of the forces.

Notice has been given from the Admiralty office, to the Commiſſioners and Store-keepers in his Majeſty's dock-yards, to make a ſtrict inſpection into the ſtate of the naval ſtores under their care, and to return an account with all expedition, which is to be laid before a grand Board of Admiralty, that will be held on that occaſion.

Some very intereſting advices arrived yeſterday from Madrid; one packet at Lord Rochford's office, and another at the Spaniſh Ambaſſador's, in Great Ormond-ſtreet. Lord Rochford immediately waited on his Excellency, and laſt night they had a long conference with his Majeſty at the Queen's Palace.

We are well informed, that Jeremiah Dyſon, Eſq; has refuſed an Iriſh Peerage which has been offered him, and has requeſted a Baronet's patent in England, which we hear will ſoon be made out for him.

The following is handed about as the copy of a letter from a new-made Ducheſs to a noble Lord at the head of the Treaſury, in anſwer to one lately received from him on the ſubject of her marriage.

" My Lord, Windſor Lodge, Dec. 19.

" I had the honour of your letter two days ſince; and though it required no heſitation on my part to decide me how to act, yet I waited to have the ſentiments of thoſe who, from the ties of honour and relationſhip, I ſhould reſpect ſuperior to my own; as I have the ſatisfaction to find my opinion confirmed, I can the more readily anſwer ſuch particulars, as you want to be informed of.

" You urge my political motives for my relinquiſhing the public title of D----ſs of C--------d, and add, how agreeable it would be to his M-----y I ſhould be on the ſame footing with the C---ſs of W-----e, who, 'hating public precedence, is received by all branches of the R---l Family as D----ſs of G-------r; as a ſuccedaneum to all theſe, you enter into the true ſpirit of your character as a ſtateſman, and offer me, by way of bribe, a handſome jointure.

" All theſe, I muſt confeſs, are flattering circumſtances, but do not, by any means, conſtitute my happineſs. In regard to the firſt point, I muſt frankly tell you I am no judge of politics; therefore ſhall never take it into conſideration: In reſpect to the ſecond, I am much obliged to his M----y for ſuch condeſcenſion; but however a reception, on ſuch terms, may ſuit the ſtill mind of the Counteſs, who, as Lord Chalkſtone ſays, " may prefer fattening on the fumoum bonum," my ambition leads to a larger compaſs, and fix ſhining footmen calling out, " the D-----ſs of C--------d's carriage here," at any of the public places, will give me more heart-felt ſatisfaction than all the R---l partis quarles I ſhould ever have at B------m Houſe.

" Your Lordſhip's ſagacity will readily ſee my objection to the third point, is neceſſarily involved in my refuſal to the two former; but leſt it ſhould not, I tell you, once for all, not even the poſſeſſion of your golden key, or the greateſt overflow of the Treaſury, ſhould induce me to alter my ſentiments. My huſband's fortune, though not at preſent equal to his rank, with interior œconomy, is ſufficient to make a ſuitable appearance in PUBLIC. I am perfectly content with that, and whenever it ſhall graciouſly pleaſe his M-----y to think more favourable of me, I flatter myſelf I ſhall not be behind hand with any of my family in duty and affection. " I have the honour to be, &c."

Orders were ſent yeſterday from the Admiralty-office to Plymouth, for the Blenheim man of war of 90 guns, and the Alcide of 64, to be got ready with all poſſible diſpatch.

Solway Moſs is ſtill moving. It has ſtopped the road for theſe eight days paſt betwixt Annan and Longtown, and the poſt is obliged to boat over the river Eſk. It has killed a great quantity of ſalmon both in the Eſk and Solway Frith.

JANUARY 3. M. de Brill, Governor of Yrkutſk, a city in Siberia, has introduced inoculation for the ſmall-pox into that country, where that diſtemper proved remarkably fatal. He began by inoculating four of his own family, who doing well, the people flocked to him, and he inoculated 50 perſons in the month of June laſt.

A patent is ſoliciting to enable Mr. Calvert, natural ſon and heir by will of the late Lord Baltimore, to aſſume the title, with perpetuity to his heirs male.

The proteſt ſigned by the Iriſh Peers gives great ſatisfaction to the lovers of liberty on each ſide the water; the reſpectful yet ſpirited terms in which it is couched, breathing equally the air of decency and fortitude, and doing honour no leſs to the heads than the hearts of the ſubſcribers.

JANUARY 4. It is ſaid to be in agitation here to lay ſome new impoſts on a neighbouring kingdom, for their late reſiſtance to the mandates of Adminiſtration.

Letters by yeſterday's poſt from Hanover, brought advice of the death of Baron Behr, Prime Miniſter of that Electorate. This is the fourth Prime Miniſter of that Electorate, who has died in the reign of his preſent Majeſty.

The King of Poland is ſo well recovered, that he aſſiſted at maſs on the 8th ult. in the chapel of the Court.

There is a report, that the Duke and Ducheſs of C--------- have received a preſſing and affectionate invitation to the Court of Denmark, and that the higheſt umbrage has been taken here thereat. The Ducheſs of C---------- was of ſeveral private parties of the King of Denmark, on his tour to this kingdom, and was not a little noticed by that monarch.

A few weeks ſince died at Cadiz, Captain Edward Hopkirk, formerly a commander in the Leghorn trade, and who had been impriſoned at that port upwards of twenty years.

An officer who had a conſumptive complaint in his breaſt, was diſſolving ſome time ago, over a chaffing-diſh of fire, in a very cloſe room, an equal quantity of white pitch and yellow bees-wax, with an intention of ſoldering ſome bottles; and after having breathed in for ſome time the vapour ariſing from it, he found the complaint in his breaſt greatly relieved. This obſervation (extremely intereſting to himſelf) determined him to continue for ſome days the ſame fumigation. He ſoon perceived a very conſiderable amendment, and at length was entirely cured. ---This cure was very much talked of. Madame la Margrave de Baden was informed of it, and ſhe was deſirous that a trial might be made of this remedy in Dourlach's hoſpital, upon a ſoldier whoſe life was deſpaired of; the ſucceſs equalled every hope that could be conceived, and the patient was perfectly cured. In conſequence of which the Princeſs gave orders that this fact ſhould be put in the Carliſhue Gazette of July laſt, 1771, and the 14th of the September following. The ſame public paper confirms this recital, adding, that this remedy has been experienced with equal efficacy upon different people who were attacked with complaints in the breaſt; and that very many, when even the lungs were ulcerated, and who were entirely given over, had been cured by this ſingle remedy.---It muſt be obſerved, that the room in which the fumigation is to be performed, ought to be very cloſe ſhut up, and that the perſon ſhould walk about to ſuck in the vapour by degrees.

Lord Rochford is ſo very aſſiduous to the duties of his office, that his Lordſhip frequently ſtays in the offices writing diſpatches till three or four o'clock in the morning.

Several packets of ſecret and great importance are now making up at the Secretaries Offices, for the different Governors in America, and they are to be forwarded with all poſſible diſpatch.

We hear, that the terms offered the D-----ſs of C--------d, to renounce her public title are, ten thouſand pounds in money, and four thouſand pounds a year jointure; the laſt being the ſame ſum ſettled on the Counteſs of Waldegrave; both of which have been peremptorily refuſed.

A correſpondent remarking on a paragraph that appeared in the daily papers, of the King forbidding his domeſtics to play at cards for the future; further obſerves, that if his Majeſty would extend his commands to his ſervants in general, not to play the knave, they may be productive of much more ſalutary conſequences to the public.

They write from Vienna, that the Emperor propoſes making the tour of France, Holland and England, the latter end of April.

On Wedneſday laſt died, at Clewer, a little village near Windſor, James Wordar, Eſq; formerly a Lieutenant in the Imperial ſervice, and had ſerved under Prince Eugene.

JANUARY 6. On Friday a writ of ſummons was iſſued out, under the Great Seal, for calling to parliament the Marquis of Carnarvon, now Duke of Chandos, in the room of his father, deceaſed.

The ſame day a writ was iſſued out for calling to Parliament Lord Burghersh, now Earl of Weſtmoreland, in the room of his father, deceaſed.

By the death of William Fitzherbert, Eſq; his place, as one of the Lords of trade and plantations, is vacant.

We aſſure our readers, upon indiſputable authority, that letters from Dr. Jebb to Sir Cliſton Wintringham and Dr. Warren, the King's phyſicians, were received on Tueſday laſt, in which that gentleman has given ſuch an unfavourable account of the ſtate of his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter's health, as has greatly alarmed every branch of the Royal Family.

We are aſſured, that all proſpect of a reconciliation between a great perſonage and his brother, who has lately been baniſhed from St. James's, is now at an end; and that in conſequence of the lady inſiſting upon being received in the rank of Ducheſs, Lord Mansfield, and Mr. Thurloe have been conſulted with reſpect to the validity of the marriage, and that an effort will be made by the Court to prevent the younger branches of the Royal Family from entering into ſuch kind of engagements for the future.

JANUARY 7. The manufacturers at Glaſgow, have happily ſucceeded in bringing the cambrick manufactory to the higheſt perfection; the cambrick now made there being eſteemed by good judges to be equal, if not ſuperior in quality to the beſt foreign cambrick ever imported.

On Sunday as a Great Perſonage was going to St. James's, he had a paper put in his hand, by a well dreſſed man, on which was wrote the following text of Scripture: Firſt go and be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

There is a foreigner now at Amſterdam, who pretends to have diſcovered the ſecret of warping or bending of oak-timber for ſhip-building, ſo as to ply it into carving form.

Some time ſince the following affair happened at Hinchinbrook, the ſeat of the Earl of Sandwich: A Captain of a recruiting party, at Huntingdon, went ſeveral times on his Lordſhip's manor to ſhoot, &c. the Earl ſeverely reprimanding him, one night the Captain took a Serjeant, two ſoldiers and a drummer, carries them to Hinchinbrook, and broke ſeveral windows in his Lordſhip's houſe, one of which was a fine old painted window, containing all the coats of arms belonging to that ancient family, which window his Lordſhip cannot replace for leſs than ten thouſand pounds. The offenders are now in Huntingdon jail.

Yeſterday, and not before, arrived at the houſe of Baron Noleken, the Swediſh Ambaſſador, in Percy-ſtreet, an anſwer to the objected articles in the treaty of commerce between the Engliſh and the Ruſſians; he immediately waited on Lord Rochford with it; when it appeared that every difficulty was removed, and the treaty will ſoon be ratified.

On Friday laſt died at his ſeat at Buckland, in Kent, Sir John Bentley, Knt. who by long and eminent ſervices in his Majeſty's navy aroſe to the rank of Vice Admiral of the White. His benevolence and charity are the loſs of his friends and the poor; his courage and abilities are the loſs of the public.

We can aſſure the public with pleaſure, that every means are now uſing by our thrice amiable Queen to reinſtate the Duke of Cumberland in his royal brother's favour.

We hear that Mr. Wedderburne, Mr. Dunning, and Mr. Sayer, are preparing a code of laws for the better regulation of the Courts of Juſtice in Bengal, the want of which has been principally productive of the calimities of that province; to ſee thoſe ſtrictly enforced will be a particular charge to the Superviſors.

JANUARY 8. Robert Gunning, Eſq; his Majeſty's Ambaſſador at the Court of Berlin, is appointed to ſucceed Lord Cathcart in that ſtation at Peterſburgh.

The Spaniſh Court hath, upon a late miſunderſtanding, made every reaſonable conceſſion that could be wiſhed or expected.

His Majeſty's ſhip Rainbow and Weazle ſloop, that are ſailed for the coaſt of Africa, are to be ſtationed on the coaſt.

We are told that the new "Freeholders Book" for the county of Middleſex and the city of Weſtminſter, were yeſterday ſigned by John Wilkes, and Frederick Bull, Eſqrs. and afterwards ſhewn to the Aldermen, Recorder, and Council, who attended at Guildhall. They expreſſed an uncommon approbation of the great accuracy of the whole, and its particular convenience for the public uſe. The two books were afterwards ſent to the Under Sheriffs office in Furnival's Inn, Holborn, and lodged there. All future juries will be ſtruck from theſe books.

A correſpondent in Dublin informs us, that Col. L------ (the Locum Tenens for Middleſex) who is now in that city, is become a moſt flaming patriot. He abuſes the ------ and the miniſtry in all companies, and pledges himſelf that he will, immediately on his return to London, vacate his ſeat in parliament, as the only means in his power of atoning for the injuries done to Mr. Wilkes, and the people of England in general.

It is further ſaid Col. L. intends to become a member of the Bill of Rights, and to ſubſcribe largely towards making Mr. Wilkes a clear and independent man before the expiration of his Sheriffalty.

Bets are laid of three to two and ſix to four, that a remarkable phenomenon will appear in the political hemiſphere before ſix months are at an end, viz. that Col. L. will be Chairman of the Bill of Rights, and alſo at the head of oppoſition in the Houſe of Commons.---It is alſo expected his royal brother-in-law will take the lead of the oppoſition in the Houſe of Peers.

JANUARY 9. Yeſterday the Right Hon. the Earl of Harcourt took leave of his Majeſty; and on Sunday next he will ſet out on his ambaſſy to the Court of France.

The great Officers of State have taken a new method of ſending papers, or communicating their ſentiments to each other, which is by ſending them in boxes, under lock and key, each of whom keeps a key that unlocks the box.

We are informed, that Mr. D'Oyley has reſigned his poſt of Under Secretary at War. The reſignation of an office is an event ſo uncommon in theſe times, that it is worthy of ſome explanation. When the junto of clerks was formed by Mr. Jenkinſon, to tranſact the buſineſs of this country under Lord Bute, Mr. D'Oyley was not conſidered as one of them; he has never been admitted as one, and conſequently has never had given him, penſion or reverſion, or any of thoſe douceurs which every one of thoſe gentry now enjoy. He never had the confidential communication of the office, nor even the common official intereſt in it. The Secretary's place being therefore a mere clerkſhip of 400l. a year, could neither in advantage or honour be worth holding to a man, in the ſtation and circumſtances of a gentleman. Till a proper perſon belonging to the junto can be ſpared, the cream-coloured cherub Bradſhaw, who is Clerk-general and friend at large, is to be ſtationed in the war office.

We are well informed, the following plan is adopted by the Cabinet for the attention of Parliament, in reſpect to the Duke of C---------d's marriage.---The marriage to hold good, but the iſſue to be debarred ſucceeding to the Crown. An addition to be made to the Duke's preſent income, and a Bill to be brought in to prevent, in future, any branches of the Royal Family marrying without the conſent of Parliament.

A certain Member, lately deceaſed, has never been rightly himſelf ſince his deſertion from the patriotic party; his mind was ſo embarraſſed a few days before his death, that he encloſed ſeveral covers, which had been left at his houſe for franking, back to the perſon who ſent them, addreſſed as if to himſelf.

Laſt week died at Ribigill, near Thurſo, in the Highlands of Scotland, one Mrs. Magaret Mackay, aged 121; ſhe was nearly related to Lord Rae; and what is remarkable, ſhe never drank any thing but water during her whole life.

Dr. Solander and Mr. Banks, have a particular commiſſion, ſtrictly injoining them to make all the diſcoveries in their power on the coaſts of New Holland and Zealand, and to the North Eaſt of Cape Horn. Theſe gentlemen are not to ſail ſo ſoon as was expected, as the miniſtry have the ſcheme of making a ſettlement on Falkland's Iſland very much at heart. The families that are to go over there, are to have lands allotted them, and to be furniſhed with all neceſſary proviſion, utenſils, &c. and to pay no kind of taxes for ſeven years.

On Monday ſe'nnight the wife of Gilbert Wilſon, of Shedbergh, in Yorkſhire, was ſafely delivered of three daughters, who were baptized by the names of Elizabeth, Mary, and Anne, and all of them are likely to live. What is very remarkable, the ages of the parents make 100 years, viz. the father 60, the mother 40.

JANUARY 10. The Princeſs Dowager, we hear, intends accompanying her daughter, the Princeſs of Brunſwick, on her return to the Continent, and that ſhe will be abſent from this country a whole twelvemonth.

Her Majeſty the Queen of Denmark, it is ſaid, is expected here in March next.

Wedneſday night the ſociety of Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce, met at their houſe in the Strand, when letters from Lord Romney, Sir Charles Whitworth, and other gentlemen choſen on the committee, for inſpecting the building of the new edifice, which is to be erected for the uſe of the ſociety in the Adelphi, by Meſſrs. Adams, were read, and contained the conſent of the above gentlemen to look over and direct the progreſs of that work.

At the ſame meeting the ſociety's gold medal was determined to be given to Mr. St. Pierre, of South-Carolina, for cultivating a great number of vines in that colony, which is likely to be attended with very beneficial conſequences to the inhabitants.

JANUARY 11. We hear that a chapter of the Order of the Bath will be held at St. James's on Wedneſday next, when the two ribbons, vacant by the deaths of the Duke of Chandos and Sir Francis Blake Delaval, will be given to the Honourable Mr. Hamilton, his Majeſty's Ambaſſador at Naples, and Sir Charles Hotham, Bart.

All the ſhips under the command of Sir George B. Rodney, in the Weſt-Indies, will be commanded home in order to be properly repaired, and ſome of the men of war that are now fitting out at Portſmouth and Plymouth will be commiſſioned to relieve them.

By a veſſel from Amſterdam we hear, that the Court of France, at the remonſtrance of the States, had at laſt cauſed 200,000 louis d'ors to be paid to perſons intereſted in the French funds, and had given promiſes that the whole ſhall be punctually diſcharged.

No leſs than five expreſſes have been received within this fortnight from Lord Grantham at Madrid, and laſt night a meſſenger was ſent off with ſeveral packets for his Lordſhip.

On Wedneſday laſt commiſſions were ſent down to Birmingham and Sheffield, to the amount of 40,000l. for goods to be ready for American exportation by April next.

JANUARY 14. Private letters from Jamaica mention, that the Spaniards have formed a new ſettlement at Rattan, on the Campeachy ſhore, which they have garriſoned with 250 men from the Havana.

The Maſter of an Engliſh veſſel arrived lately in the river from France, brings an account that a great number of foreign ſhipbuilders who were employed by the French at Breſt and Toulon, had been ſent off in a ſhip for Carthagena in Spain, to forward the naval operations there.

Letters have been ſent to all the Members of Parliament, without diſtinction of party, who are in town, deſiring, it is ſaid, their attendance to a previous reading of the Royal Speech in the Cockpit, and hoping for their conſtant attendance during the next ſeſſions; as many matters will be agitated of the firſt importance to the people.

JANUARY 16. His Majeſty has appointed his Excellency Baron Lenthe, to be Chief Secretary for the management of the affairs of the Electorate of Hanover, in the room of Baron Behr, deceaſed.

Tueſday night, his Excellency the Count de Guignes, Ambaſſador from the French Court, arrived at his houſe in Great George-ſtreet.

On Tueſday morning, at three o'clock, died at his ſeat at the Grange, in the county of Southampton, the Right Hon. Robert Henley, Earl of Northington, Lord Henley, Baron of Grange in the ſaid county, Recorder of Bath, and a Governor of the Charter-houſe. He is ſucceeded in title and eſtate by his ſon Lord Henley, Member for the ſaid county, which vacates his ſeat in Parliament. On the reſignation of Lord Chancellor Hardwicke, in 1757, the Great Seal was put into Commiſſion, and given to his Lordſhip, as Lord Keeper. In March, 1760, he was created Lord Henley, Baron of Grange; in 1761, Jan. 16, having delivered up the Seal, his Majeſty, in Council, reſtored it to him with the title of Lord High Chancellor; and in 1763, created Viſcount Henley and Earl of Northington, and declared Lord Lieutenant and Cuſtos Rotulorum of the county of Southampton; in 1766, July 30, he reſigned the ſeals, and was appointed Preſident of the Privy Council, which he reſigned in December 1767.

JANUARY 18. A plan is now in agitation for raiſing the wages of the ſeamen in the navy.

No Act of Parliament can take place either to reſtrain or puniſh the marriages of the Royal Family, without defeating the act of ſucceſſion, by which the King himſelf holds his Crown, and weakening the pillars of that conſtitutional ſecurity, which our anceſtors provided to guard the rights of their poſterity.

Yeſterday it was aſſerted on 'Change, that Admiral Rodney had written a letter to the Admiralty, inſiſting on being recalled, as he ſaid he was not authorized by the Miniſtry to act as became a Britiſh ſeaman.

They write from Ruſſia, that the town of Orol, the ſtaple of grain in that Empire, by an inundation of the river Ladago, is laid quite under water; happily there was little or no corn in the magazines, but a great number of people and cattle were drowned.

They write from Dublin, that an Act is intended to be paſſed this ſeſſion, laying a heavy penal on Iriſh artificers going into foreign ſervice, and on thoſe who engage them.

A gentleman arrived late on Wedneſday night from Ireland, who was immediately introduced to the S--c---ies of State, and had an audience of another great perſonage.

The Cabinet is much divided about the buſineſs of the enſuing Seſſions, tho' it is generally conjectured that Lord North's plan muſt be adopted, as it is far the moſt ſenſible of any which has been hitherto ſuggeſted by the Miniſtry.

It is ſaid that the Duke of Leinſter will attend his duty in the Engliſh Parliament next Seſſion, to make ſome important motions on the preſent ſtate of Ireland.

Lord Townſend, if not removed from Ireland before the termination of the preſent ſeſſion, will continue in that Government two years longer, as in that caſe there will be no neceſſity for a new Lord Lieutenant till the next meeting of Parliament in 1774.

The Iriſh Parliament does not riſe till May, a prorogation being deemed dangerous, and a diſſolution impracticable; as the public ſupplies muſt be raiſed, however diſagreeable the Viceroy may find the animadverſions of that Aſſembly.

As the Money Bills have been paſſed in Ireland, with the alterations intended by Adminiſtration, (the change with reſpect to cottons being a miſtake of the copying Clerk) the oppoſition in Parliament there is proved not to be ſo formidable as the Patriots have repreſented it; nevertheleſs, ſome believe that Lord Townſend will be recalled, and that Lord Weymouth will ſucceed him. This is, at leaſt, the language of St. James's, and the Politicians of the Smyrna and the Cocoa-tree appear to give credit to it.

The King of Pruſſia has publiſhed a free pardon to all his deſerters, provided they join their reſpective regiments in three months.

It is greatly to be lamented, that the Electors of this kingdom do not, like the Electors of Ireland, refolve to accept no entertainments from their parliamentary candidates; fince a bribe is a bribe, let the form be what it will; and fince it is a matter of indifference to the candidate, whether he pays the conftituent in hard money, or buys him in a hogfhead of wine at the Tavern.

The accounts juft received from the Eaft-Indies, give very unfavourable impreffions of the ftate of Bengal, from the injudicious mode of collecting the revenues, from encreafing the price of the neceffaries of life, and from the Company drawing all the fpecie out of the country, which has reduced the lower rank of people to the extremeft want and mifery.

They write from Brandenburgh, that a new ordinance has lately been publifhed throughout the whole Pruffian dominions, forbidding for the future all Jews from felling any fpices, drugs, or grocery goods, which are to be fold only by Chriftians in their fhops.

ST. JAMES's, December 21. His Majefty has been pleafed to order letters patent to be paffed under the Great Seal of Ireland, containing a grant unto the Right Hon. Ralph Vifcount Belliffe, and to his heirs male, of the dignity of an Earl of the faid kingdom, by the title of the Earl of Rofs, in the county of Fermanagh.

 For more new Advertiſements, ſee the ADDITION.

From the London Evening Post, December 27, 1771.

MUNGO's SOLILOQUY.

THIS blow from Dublin, I did not expect—It galls me excessively—What do the Irish rascals mean?—Why do they shoot their envenomed darts at me?—Am I not the great supporter of government?—Am I not the drudge, that does all the Minister's dirty work? I am the very pack-horse of the State! How greatly have I served the purposes of the cabinet?—How many Members have, by my labours, been brought over to support their designs?—And what important services did I render them in the City?—Shall I then quietly suffer myself to be robbed of a thousand pounds a year?—I will not bear it.—My pension shall be doubled, and the Irish shall pay it.—Ireland is a conquered country, and shall submit to the victors.—This matter must be represented to the King, as a great insult and affront upon him—That will do the business effectually.—But what a poor creature is the Lord Lieutenant, who could not bribe a majority with such immense power in his hands!—I could easily have performed the service with half the means—But he is altogether unfit for that high station—The art of corruption he knows little of—Bribing a Parliament is the principal business of government—But he is utterly ignorant of the matter—He must be called over, and another appointed—I will talk with Jenkinson about it—He will consult Mansfield—Whom he proposes for the place, G—— will appoint—He and Bute are hand and glove—But let me consider—Supposing I was to be created an Irish Peer, would it not be a good reason for doubling my pension?—I will throw out the hint—It cannot do me disservice—I am so thoroughly acquainted with all the secret designs of the cabinet, they dare not deny me any thing, lest I should blab—I'll provide for myself whilst I can—Nobody can tell what may happen—The Dowager may die—Bute's system may be overturned—The nation begins to be alarmed—Things may come into confusion, and then poor Mungo may go whistle for his pay—I must lose no time—all is a scramble—Every monkey runs away with what he can lay his paws upon—and shall not Mungo take care of himself?

IT is the scarcity of any thing which raises the value of it in mens minds, and causes the dearness of it. If rubies and diamonds were as plenty as pebbles, they would be of very small estimation. The fame also may be truly said of titles of honour. Formerly titles of honour were bestowed only on those who had done their country some great and eminent services, either by their wisdom in the Cabinet, or their valour in the field. And as such men were always rare, so titles of honour were rarely conferred; and consequently they were, in those days, of the highest value and esteem. But of late years, and especially during the present reign, titles of honour have lost all their estimation, as they are become not only as plenty as blackberries, but have been conferred as rewards for the vilest practices. Titles have of late been prostituted to the most base and iniquitous purposes; they have been generally conferred on men, not for serving, but for betraying their country. And to such a degree hath this prostitution been carried, that the very name of a Lord now conveys with it an idea of dishonour. In Ireland, as well as in England, what a number of titles have, within these few years, been bestowed to serve dishonourable purposes! When a Member of the House of Commons, in either kingdom, opposes the arbitrary measures of the Ministry, and endeavours to serve his country, it is a common practice, to seduce him from his honest designs by offering him a Peerage; and when that alone will not tempt him to betray his country, the Minister tacks a pension to it. Thus the honours of the Crown, and the money of the public, are prostituted and given away to serve the most wicked and infamous purposes. In Ireland, though Peerages have been conferred with the profusest hand, during the present reign, yet it appears by a late uncourtly resolution of the House of Commons in that kingdom, that the Ministry, before they can carry their arbitrary intentions in it, will have occasion to make a multitude more of them; and therefore we may soon expect to see a number of the honest members of that House converted and elevated into dishonest members of the other. This general prostitution of the Peerage in both kingdoms must, if it continues, render the name of Lord so very odious and contemptible, that it would be no wonder should the common people look upon it as a mark of the highest infamy, and hoot at such titled slaves as they ride along the streets.

LONDON, DECEMBER 19.

The following letter is confidently asserted to be written by the Earl of Bute, which it is said is to be seen in his own hand-writing.

Thanks you a thousand thousand times my dear Gilbert for the strenuous part you have taken in the affairs committed to your management.

Be not too open in your operations against the D he will more effectually be done for by caution, and gradual measures, than by any precipitate steps—it would be provoking indeed after having defeated a G le and a C n to be baffled by this giddy obstinate boy.

You see how easily they take fire at the trifling promotion of poor Symonds———I wish the business of the press was settled———mean time the busy scribblers must be kept to the articles of religion and the r l follies——— what is Z about.

We have a deep game coming on—what think you of M d? does he not bear his services too lostily——— North still blows cold on our friendship I never half liked that fellow, but he dares not be over restive

When ever you see B or R be sure deal more in preamble than in matter, you know who they belong to

Will the good old Dowr prove staunch—see her my dear Gilbert as often and as secretly as you possibly can. The premises fair 'tis true—Trust Dunc with a little to see how her pulse beats—better she forsake the world in peace than be wrought upon to our destruction by a conscientious remorse at this critical juncture

I can come from L n h at a moments notice I must confess myself rather timid in these times——Not that I harbor the least mistrust of your zeal and fidelity

Believe me my dear Gil

Most faithfully yours

L H Decr. 8th B.

I received the Burgundy
it was a little muddled in the carriage
but will prove good I dare say thank you also for the last

A few days since a vessel coming from Newcastle to London, at sea, within five miles of the port of Shields, took up a wooden cradle, with a child in it. The child was alive, and is now well. The cradle is supposed to have been carried to sea by an inundation in one of the places adjacent.

The following is an authentic copy of the conclusion of the speech which Mr. Flood made in the Irish House of Commons, on Monday the 25th of November last, when the debate on the pension of Jeremiah Dyson, Esq; came on before the committee of supplies:

"—— But of all the burthens which it has pleased Government to lay upon our devoted shoulders, that which is the subject of the present debate is the most grievous and intolerable.—Who does not know Jeremiah Dyson, Esq;?—We know little of him indeed, otherwise than by his name in our pension list; but there are others who know him by his actions. This is he who is endued with those happy talents, that he has served every administration, and served every one with equal success—a civil, pliable, good natured gentleman, who will do what you will, and say what you please—for payment."

Here Mr. Flood was interrupted, and called to order by Mr. M——, who urged that more respect ought to be paid to Mr. Dyson as one of his Majesty's officers, and, as such, one whom his Majesty was graciously pleased to repose confidence in. However Mr. Flood went on.

"As to the royal confidence reposed in Mr. Dyson, his gracious Majesty (whom God long preserve) has been graciously lavish of it not only to Mr. Dyson, but to the friends of Mr. Dyson; and I think the choice was good: The royal secrets will, I dare say, be very secure in their breasts, not only for the love they bear to his gracious Majesty, but for the love they bear to themselves. In the present case, however, we do not want to be informed of that part of Mr. Dyson's character—we know enough of him—every body knows enough of him—ask the British treasury—the British council—ask any Englishman who he is, what he is—they can all tell you, for the gentleman is well known.—But what have we to do with him? He never served Ireland, nor the friends of Ireland. And if this distressed kingdom was never benefited by his counsel, interest, or service, I see no good cause why this kingdom should reward him. Let the honourable members of this House consider this, and give their voices accordingly.—For God's sake, let every man consult his conscience: If Jeremiah Dyson, Esq; shall be found to deserve his pension, let it be continued; if not, let it be lopped off our revenue as burthensome and unnecessary."

NEWPORT, (Rhode-Island) FEBRUARY 3.

A new General having lately arrived at Hispaniola, some Regulations have lately taken Place, in Consequence of which several Northern Vessels have been seized; and it is thought likely the Trade that Way will be broke up, or laid under severe Restrictions.

FEBRUARY 10. We hear that the Crops in several Islands in the West-Indies, were like to be the greatest known for many Years past.

By Captain Tibbits, from Hispaniola, we have a Confirmation of several English Vessels having been lately seized at that Island, but don't learn their Names, nor where they belonged.

NEW-HAVEN, JANUARY 17.

Captain How, lately arrived from the West-Indies, in Lat. 33 N. Long. 72, spoke a Schooner, Samuel Stone, Master, belonging to South-Carolina, who was blown off that Coast, had been 14 Days at Sea, without any other Provision than Rice boilded in Salt Water, his Sails tore to Pieces, and his People (who were Negroes) so much Frost bitten, that they were unfit for Duty. Captain How supplied them with Beef, Bread, Rum, &c. and the Schooner bore for the West-Indies.

NEW-YORK, FEBRUARY 6.

Captain Offat, in 27 Days from Pensacola, informs us, That when he left that Place the Troops were very healthy, and that the Governor, and most of the principal Inhabitants were just returned from Mobile, where they had been to hold a Congress with the Creek Indians, which terminated much in Favour of the English, they having ceded to his Britannick Majesty, a large Body of Land, extending thirty Miles up the Coosaw River, in Addition to the Province of West-Florida.

The General Assembly have appointed five of the Members of the House, to be a Committee to examine and see what Repairs are necessary to be made to the Fortifications of this City, and to report their Opinion thereupon to the House, with all convenient Speed.

They have also ordered, that a Bill be brought in for granting unto his Majesty the Sum of Two Thousand Pounds, for furnishing the Troops quartered in this Colony, with Necessaries for one Year.——The same to be made payable out of the Interest Money arising by Virtue of an Act, entitled, An Act for emitting the Sum of £.120,000, in Bills of Credit to be put upon Loan, and to appropriate the Interest arising thereon, to the Payment of the Debts of this Colony, and to such public Exigencies as the Circumstances of this Colony may from Time to Time render necessary.

PHILADELPHIA, FEBRUARY 3.

Extract of a Letter from Baltimore, January 16, 1772.

"We learn, that a Person who has for many years past been a Master in several Manufactories for Linen, Cotton, and Calicoe Printing, likewise Cutting and Stamping of the Copper Plates for the same, intends some Time this Month to leave England for America, with six Journeymen, and all Materials for carrying on the said Business, previous to which, and unknown to the English Manufacturers, he has shipped sundry Machines, some of which will spin ten, and others from 20 to 200 Threads at one Time, with the Assistance of one Hand to each Machine.—These Machines are not allowed at Home, and so inveterate are the common People against them, that they burn and destroy not only them, but the Houses also wherein they are found. The Americans being able to purchase Cotton to more Advantage than the Europeans, a Manufactory of this Kind will doubtless, be properly encouraged by the Well-Wishers to America.

On Thursday Morning last, a Fire broke out in the House of Mr. Thomas West, in Second-street, about seven o'Clock in the Morning, which in a few Hours consumed the Roof and upper Story of the said House, together with those of Mr. John Wallace, Mr. William Smith, and Mr. William Savery, which adjoined them. The Activity and public Spirit of the Inhabitants never appeared more conspicuous upon Occasions of this Nature than on the present. In Spite of the Inclemency of the Weather (the Wind blowing a Storm of Hail and Snow from N. E. the whole Time) few were seen to leave their Posts till the whole was extinguished. The Loss in Houshold Furniture, Merchandize, &c. to the above Gentleman, we hear, is pretty considerable.

Extract of a Letter to a Gentleman in Burlington, from a Correspondent in London.

"You will soon have a strong Proof of the Attention of Government to those who have supported the Power of Parliament in America, in the Appointment of Z. H—d, Esq; to the Government of Maryland, it being now no Secret that that Province will fall into the Hands of the Crown.—It is said that Mr. H——s is to succeed him in his Office in Pennsylvania."

Last Thursday Morning, about two o'Clock, a terrible Fire broke out at Trenton, New-Jersey, which in a few Hours consumed eight Dwelling-Houses, and several other Buildings. Mr. Dunlap Adams, Isaac Allen, Esq; and Mr. David Pinkerton, are among the Sufferers, the former of whom, it is said, hath lost to the Amount of £.7000.

FEBRUARY 13. We hear that the Beginning of last Week a Farm House, inhabited by some Persons who took Care of the Farm, about two Miles from Princeton, belonging to the Rev. John Witherspoon, D. D. President of New-Jersey College, took Fire and was consumed.

WILLIAMSBURG, (Virginia) JANUARY 16.

At a Court of Common-Hall Yesterday, to take under Consideration the Expediency of opening a Communication between James and York Rivers, by a Canal to be dug from Archer's Hope Creek, which runs into James River, it was the unanimous Opinion that such a Measure would be attended with very great Benefit to the Trade of the said Rivers, as well as to the Inhabitants of this City; upon which a Subscription was immediately set on Foot for carrying this desirable Scheme into Execution, which already amounts to upwards of £.2000, his Excellency the Governor gave £.500, the Hon. Peyton Randolph, Esq; £.200, and a Number of other Gentlemen £.100 each. And there will be another Hall next Saturday, at which all the Inhabitants are desired to attend, when it is not doubted the Subscription will be considerably increased, every one being fully satisfied of the Usefulness and practicability of the Work. It is thought the whole may be completed for 6 or £.7000.

Mr. CROUCH,

By giving the following a Place in your Paper, you will oblige one of your constant Readers. ———.

BEHOLD the spruce Beau, in his Holiday Cloaths,
Replete with his Compliments, full of his Bows;
No Passions disturb him, no Cares intervene,
Except the dear Passion, to keep his Cloaths clean.
This his chiefest Pursuit, his principal Care,
All others he leaves to the wide spreading Air.
Few Graces contribute to the forming his Mind;
His Humour but low, and his Wit's all purloin'd.
A Set of shrewd Hints, Innuendoes, and Slanders,
A Heap of State Phrases, and double Entendres;
Some new-fashion'd Compliments ready at Hand,
To bully and bluster, with Oaths at command.
To Romances and Farces, much indebted he is,
For many pert Sayings, and smart Repartees.
His Knowledge just serves him to dress with an Air,
Look big, bounce and flatter, to jest and to swear.
Of Venus and Cupid, and Love's goodly Train,
He talks with much Pleasure, for it gives him no Pain:
Self-love is his principal, only Desire,
And all his whole Study's himself to admire.
As for Learning and Books, that teach Men to be wise,
He never once thinks of---except to despise.
His Answer is this, when of Books you discourse:
'That Man is but bad, and that they make him worse:
'That they teach him the Arts of Fraud and Deceit,
'And make him a Rogue in each Action compleat:
'They fill him with Care, with Trouble and Woes,
'And conjure up Means to destroy his Repose.
'That to live is quite easy, of Books there's no Need;
'And that he's most happy, who never learnt to read.'
Thus reasons he slightly of Matters sublime----
Thus learns to despise what would make him divine.
What is Beauty and Dress, to the Graces we find
Concentred and lodg'd in the well-tuter'd Mind?
The brightest Perfections may fade in an Hour,
But Wisdom will last when Beauty's no more.
Time here finds a Foe, that, in spite of him, warms,
For nothing but Death can deprive her of Charms.

Charles-Town, January 13, 1772.

ABSENTED herſelf from my ſervice about a fortnight ago, a negro wench named BETTY, whom I lately purchaſed from Mr. John Boone; ſhe is a ſlim made little wench, with a ſour look, artful and ſenſible, well known in town and country, having a numerous ſtock of relations, by ſome of whom I ſuppoſe ſhe is ſecreted; and I do hereby offer a reward of TWENTY POUNDS to a free perſon, and TEN POUNDS to a ſlave, to be paid on conviction of the offender, upon information by whom ſhe is harboured; and if ſhe ſhould be harboured by a white perſon, double of the above reward will be given to the informer, being determined to ſpare no expence in proſecuting ſuch peſts to ſociety. BRIAN CAPE.

To be Let, and may be entered on immediately,

THE well known TANYARD in Ansonburgh, with or without the Negroes employed in it. Apply to

WILLIAM HOPTON.

A fine LOT for Sale by private Contract, viz.

THAT valuable LOT of LAND in Charles-Town, known or diſtinguiſhed in the plan or model thereof, by the No. 191, ſituated at the weſt end and on the north ſide of Tradd-ſtreet, between the houſes of Alexander Fraſer, Eſq; and the late Captain Thomas Elliott, deceaſed, containing in front on ſaid ſtreet, fifty-eight feet, eight inches, or thereabouts, with the advantage of a paſſage; and in depth one hundred and forty-three feet, or thereabouts; whereon is a BRICK HOUSE deſigned for kitchens or two tenements that were intended to be built, and will ſtill ſerve thoſe purpoſes. This Lot has a fine ſouth proſpect of Aſhley-River, and as the proprietor of the oppoſite lot may perhaps make his front on Friend-ſtreet to be uniform with the other houſes built at the ſouth end and weſt ſide of that ſtreet, with the garden running eaſt and weſt, there will be no obſtruction to the ſoutherly air from Aſhley-River, which muſt be very agreeable in the hot months, and may prevent the communication of any malignant diſtemper that may rage in the interior parts of the town, or contagion ariſing from noxious effluvia. Its vicinity alſo to ſeveral good landing places on Aſhley-River, particularly the Sugar-Houſe-Creek, where a public market will no doubt be ſoon eſtabliſhed, will greatly enhance the value of all lands in that part of the town; alſo being ſituated in an excellent neighbourhood of reputable inhabitants, renders it not only more eligible, but ſecure againſt the danger of fire; and being a vacant lot, the purchaſer will have the ſatisfaction of erecting buildings thereon according to his own taſte for pleaſure or profit; the area or ground plot admitting either of one large manſion houſe of twelve rooms, or to be divided into two tenements of ſix rooms each, with land ſufficient behind for a kitchen garden to each. And, as houſes in that airy and pleaſant part of the town are ſeldom or ever empty, it will afford a certain good income quarterly.

The purchaſer may have one, two, three, or four years credit, giving bond, with approved perſonal ſecurity, and paying the intereſt punctually every year, and if he chuſes it, one third or one fourth part of the principal will be received annually, by which inſtalments, the purchaſe money will be eaſily and inſenſibly ſunk.

RICHARD-PARK STOBO.

RUN-AWAY from the ſubſcriber, the latter end of October laſt, a negro ſlave, named

CHARLES,

Jamaica born, a very ſenſible arch fellow, about 28 years of age, and about 5 feet 10 inches high, well made, but ſtoops much in his walk, of a black complexion, is a compleat waiting man, and as compleat a ſeaman as any negro can be; has been two voyages to England, and was moſt of laſt war a french-horn man on board the Deal Caſtle, Captain Mantle, a privateer belonging to Kingſton in Jamaica.—Whoever takes him up, and delivers him to me at the coffee-houſe, or to the warden of the work-houſe in Charles-Town, ſhall have TEN POUNDS reward; and if diſcovered to be harboured by a white perſon, free mulattoes, or free negroes, or being carried or ſent off by either, ſhall, on conviction and full proof thereof, be intitled to FIFTY POUNDS reward. HUGH HUGHES.

N. B. He has no viſible brand or mark. tbctf.

To be diſpoſed of by private Sale,

The following TRACTS of LAND, viz.

FOUR hundred and fifty acres of land in St. George's pariſh, Berkley county, about ſixteen miles from Dorcheſter, at the Four-Holes, where the late George Marſhall lived and kept ſtore for ſeveral years, originally granted to John Goodbe, well known to be good land for corn and indico, with great conveniency of water.

Three hundred acres bounded north by Santee river, in Saxegotha townſhip, with a town lot, No. 63, originally granted to Abraham Gyger, alſo good for corn and indico, pleaſantly ſituated within a quarter of a mile of the mineral ſpring.

Four hundred acres on Great Saltuda river, originally granted to Robert Stiell, two hundred and ſixty acres of which is rice-ſwamp, and allowed to be as good a tract of land as any in that part of the country.

Five hundred acres at Coronakee near Ninety-Six, originally granted to John Jones, and lying in the center of the lands run out for Mr. Salvador, not a foot of bad land in the whole tract, with a fine run of water going through it.

Two hundred and fifty acres on a branch of Great Rocky creek, on the waters of Savannah river, lying between the old Tugelo and Cherokee path, bounded ſouth-weſtwardly by land ſurveyed for David Stuart, originally granted to John Hume. Alſo,

TWO LOTS of land in the town of Beaufort, Port-Royal, No. 128 and 132, the latter of which has a ſmall houſe on it, that lets for 25l. per annum.

Any perſon inclinable to purchaſe any of the above tracts of land or lots, may apply to John Hume, or in his abſence, to Alexander Roſe. tbctf.

TO BE LET,

And may be entered immediately,

A Commodious neat Tenement, at the Corner of Meeting and Guignard Streets, nearly oppoſite to Mrs. Logan's.—Enquire of ISAAC MOTTE.

FOR SALE,

FOUR LOTS of LAND at White Point, on the weſt ſide of Old Church, or Meeting-ſtreet, of which, one fronts on Aſhley river, containing about 56 feet in breadth, and in depth on the weſt line, 165, and on the eaſt, 219 feet.—The other three lots front on the above ſtreet, being 40 feet each in breadth, and 140 deep; the ſoutherly breeze in the ſummer ſeaſon, will render the ſituation of thoſe lots extremely pleaſant and healthful, and being near to the water, will be very convenient for country gentlemen in particular.—Thoſe that incline to become purchaſers, may have a year's ſpace for payment, allowing intereſt, and giving ſecurity if required.
